Northeast Florida Safety Council Announces
WJXT Anchor/Reporter Vic Micolucci
As 2016 Jerry Hamm Media Award Winner

Jacksonville, Florida; Dec. 14, 2016 – The Northeast Florida Safety Council, Inc. (NEFSC) presented Vic Micolucci, WJXT-TV anchor/reporter with the 2016 Jerry Hamm Media Award.

Micolucci was cited for his comprehensive coverage of the Workers' Memorial Day event held last April, that honored those who lost their lives in the workplace. In addition, it was noted that he uses NEFSC throughout the year as a resource for information regarding safety issues that affect the Northeast Florida community and businesses.

The award, which has been presented for the past 50 years and is given at the organization's annual membership meeting and holiday luncheon, is named after member Jerry Hamm, former owner of Jerry Hamm Chevrolet.

“One of our major missions at the Safety Council is to inform the public on concerns and issues affecting public safety and workplace safety,” explained Shana Harvey, public relations director for NEFSC. “It really helps to have someone like Vic, who understands the importance of public safety and who is willing to use us to help get important information to the public.”

NEFSC is a non-governmental, not-for-profit, public service organization dedicated to promoting good health, saving lives, preventing accidents and maintaining a safe environment through workplace safety programs, road safety training programs and community service. With four locations throughout the First Coast, NEFSC offers classroom safety courses in addition to online training. For more information about the organization's services, call 904-399-3119 or visit NEFSC.org.
